When you have your portrait taken you naturally want a GOOD one; to ensure this you must go to a place where not only the best appliances and artistic skill are to be found, but where also TIME can be taken to study your features, get their most pleasing expression, the most suitable light and graceful pose.

If the photographer lowers his prices too much he cannot take the necessary time to do his work well, but must run his customers through like sheep, trusting to the NUMBER to make his profit.

A sensible person will beware of such and prefer to go where fair prices are charged and every care taken to ensure the work turning out satisfactorily; such is the case at the "Gran Fotografia Platense" whose customers never having been driven away by excessively high prices, do not require to be lured back by catchpenny reductions.

London, 6th.—The Liberals have decided, after hearing the Queen's Speech, to provoke a vote as soon as possible, to find out whether public opinion or Lord Salisbury's caprice is to decide what Government the country is to have.

Berlin, 6th—The anniversary of the battle of Seda n will be celebrated with unusual eclat this year.

This is meant as an answer to the patriotic demonstrations of the French at Nancy, to show them that patriotism is as ardent in Germany as in France.

If Bismarck's relations with Government do not change before Parliament opens, it is certain that the Prince will take his seat in the Reichstag to attack Government. The ex-Chancellor has told this to several of his friends.

While passing through the station at Berlin on his way to Fredrichsruhe, Prince Bismarck got an enthusiastic ovation from the crowds in and around the station. He made a speech, thanking them, in which he declared he was satisfied with the present and confident of the future, as he had faith in the vitality of the German people. He prayed for the health and prosperity of the citizens of Berlin, who had given him so many proofs of their regard.

He made no allusion to the Government. He was interrupted every moment by tremendous cheering, which rose to a delirious pitch as the train started. The women waved their handkerchiefs and the men their hats, shouting "Long live Bismarck!"

The manifestation surpassed all previous ones and has given much concern to Government.

Sofia, 6th—The official papers here express a conviction that England Germany, Italy and Austria will shortly consent to receive Bulgarian representatives, which will be considered as a tacit recognition of the legal status of Bulgaria and Prince Ferdinand.

St. Petersburg, 6th.—Cholera is increasing at Nijvni Novgorod and in the other infected provinces, but not with the rapidity at first feared. Efforts are being made to prevent strangers visiting the Fair, lest they should spread the disease on their return.

London, 5th.—There was a catastrophe to-day in a coal mine near Dewsbury, Yorkshire. A side-wall gave way and the mine was instantaneously filled with water. Six men were drowned at once, and it is feared there are more victims.

Very few Conservative members attended the House of Commons to-day, but the Liberals were in great force

RIVER PLATE LAND COMPANIES.

The position of the six Land Companies connected with this country, whose shareholders and directors reside in London, is such as to suggest reflections on the possibility of their improvement. The fall in real estate has naturally affected them very seriously, as the following table, dated London, July 2nd, shews :—

	Capital, £.	Share paid up.	Discount.
Anglo-Paraguayan	27,000	£5	95 %
Arg. Colonization	300,000	10	65 "
" Land	850,000	4½	22 "
" South Land	187,000	8	56 "
" Curumalan..	500,000	100	8 "
Santa Fé Land...	280,000	20	60 "
Total.....	2,144,000

At the present market quotations the aggregate share-value of the above companies is only £1,422,000, shewing a loss of one-third of the capital. Some of the companies have declared no dividend for a long time the Santa-Fé company shews a loss of £25,000 last year.

Nevertheless we hear from all quarters that the agricultural colonies in Santa-Fé and other provinces are doing well, that there is no crisis among the wheat-growers, and that tillage is rapidly extending. We are therefore, forced to conclude that there is something in the nature of land-companies inimical to their own interests, something which prevents them from adapting themselves to the exigencies or the advantages of the moment.

And yet few countries have offered more striking proofs of the way to make agricultural colonies profitable, or the reverse. As a general rule the more liberal the terms granted to colonists, the greater the advantage to all parties concerned.

There was a time, some 20 years ago, when we dreamed of free Homestead Land-grants to immigrants, on the same plan as in the U. States· A law to that purport was voted by Congress with acclamation, but we have never heard of a single farm given gratis. There are at present the following agricultural colonies in the Republic:—

Province	Colonies	Settlers
Santa Fé	249	180,000
Cordoba	50	15,000
Entre Rios	46	38,000
Total	345	233,000

The above colonies have actually under tillage 2,150,000 acres, of which 1,600,000 are under wheat. All the lands occupied by the colonies have been bought and paid for (except the Franck and a few others) by the colonists, at prices ranging from 4 shillings to 30 shillings an acre (4$ to 30$ gold per cuadra).

It may be that the Land Companies now find it very difficult to sell at the prices that they expected, some of these companies having been formed during the "boom" on the supposition that the prices then paid for land were the normal value. They feel a natural repugnance to sell to-day at a low figure, lower possibly than what the land cost them. They live in hope of better times, and meantime vast tracts of available land are condemned to lie idle.

Some large land-owners about Lehmann and other colonies have tried the introduction of the Metayer system, and inform us that it has given admirable results: the owner lets the land for five or ten years to colonists, on condition of receiving half the wheat-crop, and at the end of the term the colonist becomes owner free of charge.

The metayer system was formerly much in vogue on the sheep-farms of Buenos Ayres, under the name of Medianeros, the land-owner and the tenant dividing equally the proceeds of the flock or flocks. It has long been in use in Italy and France, and if it had been adopted in Ireland would have prevented nine-tenths of the agrarian troubles in that country Above all it is found to work admirably in the United States, and saves farmers from mortagages and usurers.

The holdings of this description in the above-mentioned countries by latest returns were:—

In	Acres, metayer	Cultivated area
France	11,100,000	84,400,000
Italy	18,000,000	71,000,000
U. States	94,300,000	534,000,000

It will be seen that one-fourth of Italy, nearly one-fifth of the U. States and more than one-eighth of France are held in Matayer. Some Italian and French economists have written against it, but its success in the U. States is a strong argument in its favor. In Santa-Fé so far we have heard nothing against it, and we should like the Land Companies to make the experiment, giving lots of 16 cuadras or 64 acres to each family. The colonist would then start unencumbered with debt, knowing that he had no other obligation than to give half his crop of wheat to the Company.

In this way perhaps the Land Companies would be able to shew some better result than the case above-mentioned, of a loss of £25,000 last year.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

ROYAL OPERA—COVENT GARDEN.
MR. BEMBERG'S 'ELAINE'.

(From our own Correspondent.)

July 9th.

Neither the elections, nor a season of Wagner's heavy music-dramas, nor Henley regatta, nor an incessant downpour of rain prevented Covent Garden from being filled last night with a brilliant audience. As one glanced at the orange lights and crimson tapestries framing such a show of beauty, fashion and glitter, one asked why this honour to an opera unheard, to a composer unknown? And a Porteño too. A 'South American description'? At this moment quite ½ to ¾ lower? Unbounded hospitality!

Most people of mature age in Buenos Ayres remember Mr Otto Bemberg, and a few survivors of the paste an look back to the days when the lady he afterwards married was still the Señorita Louisa Ocampo, who adorned a then brilliant society with her many accomplishments, amongst which music was a gift so liberally bestowed and cultivated that one hesitates to think of her as an amateur. It is not strange that the gift has descended to her children and that one of them at least should awake this morning and find himself if not famous, at least fairly on the road to fame. Mr. H. Bemberg was, I believe, born in Paris. His music betrays his birth-place and the style of art he has studied; but whether it be fancy or not, I could trace amongst the well known effects of melody and orchestration we attribute to Gounod and Massenet, another vein with which the veteran Verdi in his younger days inoculated the world, and above all Southern Europe and South America. To young Mr. Bemberg it must have been a kind of mother tongue. The artistic result is happy in the extreme. His recollection of the Italian style, not to speak of occasional direct references to Verdi's 'Otello', assist the singers, and give fibre and continuity to thoughts his French prototypes might have frittered away in mere effects of harmonic or orchestral colouring. It is almost a relief at the present day to find in Mr. Bemberg's first serious effort nothing of Wagner beyond what comes at second hand perhaps from the 'Esclarmonde' of M. Massenet. When in 'Elaine' we are treated to a 'ballade' such as "L'amour est pur comme la flamme" we hear at once the language in which Mr. Bemberg thinks and the national strains of his native country. As half a German by extraction the composer of 'Elaine' may be something of an English scholar, and has been attracted towards Tennyson's 'Idylls of the King' and desirous to present his opera firstly to an English audience. We know that it was part of the ill-starred enterprise of Mr. Doyly Carte to produce 'Elaine' at the English Opera in Shaftsbury Avenue after Sullivan's 'Ivanhoe' had run its course· Alas! 'Ivanhoe' ran out; and the sad rumour already prevails that the English Opera House is to be turned into a music hall. 'Ta ra boom de aye' draws better than Sir Arthur Sullivan's grand opera; the disastrous pecuniary results of which were not even balanced by 'La Basoche'. The collapse was a piece of good fortune for Mr. Bemberg, for now, under the wing of Sir Augustus Harris, glad perhaps to patronize the scion of a financial house, the young composer has his opera produced with all the resources of Covent Garden Theatre and a positively ideal cast, as this list of the 'dramatis personae' discovers :

Lancelot.....	M. Jean de Roszke.
Le Roi Arthur.....	M. Ceste
Le Sire d'Astolat..	M. Plançon
Gawain	M. Dufriche
Lavain	M. Montariot.
L'Ermite.....	M. Edouard de Reszke.
Elaine	Mme. Melba
La Reine Geniévre	Mme. Deschamps-Jetrin.

The author of the libretto, M. Paul Ferrier, has in his own way arranged the old Celtic legend of Lancelot and Guinevere in a series of tableaux adorned by some pretty poetry and with a careful regard for situations suited to musical display. He has, in fact, written a romantic opera of the old kind with less dialogue than is usual in French operas, that are mostly spoiled dramas, very troublesome to the musician. On this account there are not half a dozen French grand operas that keep the stage. The scenery of 'Elaine' is laid firstly in the palace of King Arthur where the valiant Lancelot feigns sickness to carry on his intrigue with the guilty Queen Guinivere, whilst the King, leaving her in charge of his trusty Knight, goes with his court to the tournament at Camelot. The second scene is in the castle of Astolat. Here, at night, Lancelot, who for his honour's sake has been persuaded by Guinivere to enter the lists at Camelot, arrives, and without divulging his name and rank, claims hospitality· This the Lord of Astolat grants and summons his daughter Elaine to hand the cup of welcome to his guest, according to M. Ferrier's very French version of the tale. The Knight, who has just left the arms of Guinivere, falls in love with the fair maiden transfigured by a ray of moonlight, that, through an opening in the hall, falls on her figure as she descends the stone staircase. Elaine reciprocates the sudden spasm of affection, and whilst Lancelot and all in the castle are sleeping, she sings to the moon and muses of love that "puissance souvraine." At dawn the Knight takes his departure for the lists and she gives him her scarf as a gage o' love. Act 11 begins with the tournament outside the city walls of Camelot. Lancelot—the masked Knight—is victorious but wounded. Without waiting to receive his reward from the King he flies to the grotto of a hermit who tends him. Here Elaine comes to pray and tell the hermit of her pangs of love. The Knight Gawain, whom Lancelot had overcome in the tourney, and who is also a pretender to the hand of Elaine, arrives to summon the unknown Knight into the presence of King Arthur. Gawain draws the hangings which shelter the sick man's couch, and to his own surprise and that of Elaine, he discovers that the unknown Knight is Lancelet, who conjures him by his Knighthood to say nothing. In the end Lancelot takes a fond leave of Elaine, and obeying the King, accompanies Gawain to Camelot, Meanwhile, Guinivere has heard of her Knight's falseness and plots revenge. In Act IV, Scene V, Elaine is seen reclining on a couch on a platform of Astolat. She is still dreaming of love and Lancelot, and sighing and dying when, at the instigation of Guinivere, the Knight Gawain arrives with a casket containing the scarf Elaine had given Lancelot as a gage. "This message," she says, "doth end my days." Her dying request is, that when in icy death she is lying, they with pious hands will bedeck her form with the garments of a bride and place her in a barge upon a bier of flowers and abandon her to the current that she may pass by Lancelot, Accordingly in the last scene in the garden of King Arthur's palace, when Lancelot escapes from the crowd of guests, but is followed by the jealous and upbraiding Queen, the mysterious barge with Elaine's body floats down the stream and arrests the attention of King Arthur and his courtiers who pause in their revels to watch the barge sucked by the tide into the reeds at the river's bank. Guinivere in revenge points to the body, which Lancelot recognises with grief and remorse, and the curtain drops.

You will easily understand the opportunities this love tale affords to the musician. Mr. Bemberg is only three and twenty—an age at which Mozart, the greatest and most precocious musical genius the world has seen, had not yet established his fame by any striking and original work. Mr. Bemberg has proved himself master of the technical resources of his art, and has shown in "Elaine" that he has sufficient powers of assimilation to skilfully recast the ideas of others, without absolute plagiarism. If he has not great imagination, he has that mental vigour which is the first requisite in giving practical realisation to ideas of any kind. The original ideas may come later. We are still waiting for them in Mascagni, Leoncavallo and a host of other young writers Their faults are a great deal due to the style of the day, a style which has been called "symphonic." To my mind and from a dramatic point of view, it is a mistake. Musically, it is a professional and chapel-master's idea. There is a want of rest in our present-day music. For example in Mr. Bemberg's opera, when Elaine's body approaches the reeds at the river-side, the orchestra, if in a changed and suitable mood, rolls on remorselessly until it is joined by the threnody of Lancelot, a beautiful but still Verdi-like cantilena such as we have at the end of "Ernani" and in a host of operas since. In that scene in "Elaine," one longed for the mere tap of the drums as in the "Freyschutz," or for the still more striking two or three notes of the clarinet in Herold's "Pres-aux-Clercs," in a scene very similar, where a barge, with the corpse of one killed in a duel, floats down the Seine. These dramatic "touches" are not found in the works of our young experts. And, sad to think, their ambition is to be "experts" and not composers. As for Mr. Bemberg, he has time before him, and it is with pleasure that this morning I read the criticisms on "Elaine" in every one of the London papers and found not one unkind word. The criticisms were all excellent, showing that the writers fully comprehended their subject and knew where to blame as well as to praise; but they were one and all favourable, and I can answer myself for the brilliant reception accorded both to the composer and the singers by an unusually gay and appreciative audience at Covent Garden.

FALKLAND ISLANDS MAGAZINE

THE CRUISE OF H. M. S. "CLEOPATRA"

After a week's sojourn among the genial inhabitants of Stanley, the "Cleopatra" left on the morning of the 28th of February for "fresh woods and pastures new." Like Ulysses after his visit to King Eolus she was well stocked with favourable winds and soon hove in sight of Staten Island. This rocky Island with a covering of peaty soil, in size about 30 miles by 4 is clothed in an emerald robe of Antartic Beech, and the sun shining here and there on the summit of the snowcapped mountains afforded a pleasing contrast to the treeless monotony of the Falkland group. It belongs to the Argentine Government and has a Light visible for 14 miles to the Northward. The trees and undergrowth are so dense that when some time since in the winter time a ship was wrecked about 15 miles away from the small settlement where the Light house is situated, the crew all died of starvation aud fatigue before they could cut their way through to it. This part of the world is rarely without some woeful tale of ship-wrecked mariners, and its ill-famed reputation is still at its zenith: for no sooner had we sighted the Flagstaff, than signals for immediate assistance were visible; and as we rounded the little promontory where the station was and came in sight of the settlement, consisting of some 8 or 10 wooden houses, we saw much hurrying to and fro, and an assembly of people gathering together on the beach to give a ringing cheer which at once revealed their British nationality: they were the crew of the ill-fated "Crown of Italy."

They had been carried ashore by the tide on Cape San Diego in the famous Straits Le Maire and had proceeded in open boats across the Straits to the extreme Eastern end of Staten Island, the harbour of St. John's where we anchored. For 70 days they had sojourned on the Island: and after the stores had given out, they were compelled for several days to live on mussels, leather jackets, penguins, seals, and the fruit of a sort of wild raspberry which grows plentifully all over the land.

The grandeur of the scenery of this Land of Fire is quite beyond any adequate description. The Beagle Channel runs along between high Mountains clothed with trees to ths water's edge, their tops above 3,000 feet, all covered with perpetual snow: the whole of Tierra del Fuego resembles a huge tract of land, of hill and dale, which has been partially flooded by the Ocean: so full is it of Channels and Islands. The country will no doubt by and bye be opened out to the world: sheep-farming is now being carried on and golddigging is revealing some of the hidden treasures of this distant region. At Harberton Harbour, the residence of Mr. Bridges, where we anchored for a night, we saw 4 whale boats start away fitted with stores for Sloggat Bay and Picton Island, to pick up the gold which nature has worked out of the rock, and washed down to the shingly beach. Most of the diggers seem to be Germans, and at present while this part of the world is under litigation between the Argentine and Chilian Governments, no royalty has yet been demanded: still the hardships of digging in that cold boisterous climate must be very great. I understand that good grazing land may be leased on easy terms, so capital and labour may open quite a new sphere here one day for some of the hale and hearty surplus population.

Talking about the sheep farming, we heard of several fleeces which weighed 36 lbs.; some of which reached the weight of 45 lbs. The next day we proceeded to Ooshooia, where Mr. Lawrence and the Rev. Mr. Aspinall are in charge of the Mission station. My first introduction was to a very historic personage. Edwin Button, the son of Jemmy Button of Darwin fame. We paid a visit to the Church School Rooms and saw some text, lessons &c. written about, in the Yahgan language. The orphanage superintended by Mrs. Hemmings revealed to us some half a dozen little Fuegian children; fat, clean, happy and intelligent, some cooking, some knitting socks, some reading and some resembling more the cottage children of England (but for their colour) than specimens of what was once described as the lowest of the human race. Another branch of the Mission is about to be established among the Islands, when some four or five hundred natives are hoped to take advantage of the efforts.

It was with much regret that we left on the day following for our return journey. The glaciers and still more wonderful scenery which exist farther to the westward were only to be realized by our fertile imaginations.

There were specially two hours which I shall not easily forget, while we were at anchor at Harberton. In the evening Mr. Bridges paid us a visit and came down to the Ward Room and talked to us about the country &c:- he held us all spell bound with his clever and interesting conversation:-he spoke so enthusiastically of the intelligence and quickness of the natives among whom he had lived for so many years, of their ability in using to the uttermost the advantages of their surroundings, of their trustworthiness and improvement. Of the varieties of trees and of the edible Fungus which grows in rich profusion upon the former:-of the shell fish equal in delicacy of taste to the Oyster, of the strawberries and other kinds of berries, of the wild celery and finally of the quantities of gold along the sea shores: showing us how in this extreme end of the earth were locked up treasures and luxuries as yet almost sealed to the outside world! On our way back to Staten Island we went round to the Southward and came up the East end of the Island, passing through the region of dangerous overfalls: it was a strange sight; the disturbance is caused by the meeting of two tides; and in the neighbourhood of their meeting the sea is rough and pyramidal, ships going across being tossed about indiscriminately, and even in moderate weather, it is a source of great danger to small craft. We ourselves passed between the overfalls and the land, thus avoiding any unnecessary discomfort. We picked up the shipwrecked crew, and after passing Beauchene Island, and the Sea Lion Rocks, the seat of still more recent shipwreck, we soon fetched Stanley, at that moment enveloped in a thin covering of snow: it was a remarkably pretty and uncommon sight! But however it may change externally, internally it is always the same in beauty, and the heart of the Colony will ever beat sympathetically with the heart of the "Cleopatra"; and "as long as memory holds a seat in this distracted globe," thoughts sent across the Ocean to that rocky shore will always be accompanied with most sincere and affectionate recollections.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

Friday.

The greatest astonishment has been caused in several circles by the very poor reception given last night to Ferrari's Opera Company. It was expected that the first night at lesst the house would be full, but as a matter of fact only half the seats were occupied. The performance—the Huguenots—was not up to the mark, and the coldness of the audience was a notable feature of the evening's entertainment. It is expected that Signor Ferrari will not remain very long in Montevideo. People are evidently keeping their money, like the Government, to spend on Signor Pome's Opera Company, which is to arrive shortly. Last night several of the arias were suppressed, as the singers did not feel well. In the meantime the San Felipe Theatre, where a Zarzuela Company are at present performing, is crowded every night.

The Minister of War this morning visited the barracks of the 1st Cazadores and witnessed some exercises. Later on His Excellency visited the General Rivera, which is at present undergoing repairs in the Cibils Dock.

The Custom House returns are still under an average. The Director to-day handed over $7,831 to the London Bank.

A meeting of the shareholders of the Sociedad de la Playa will take place on the 16th to consider the advisability of liquidating the concern.

Mr. Casimir Plaffy has drawn up a very good plan of the city and outskirts of Montevideo. The first copies will be on sale in a few days. Messrs. Somá Bros, lithographers, are printing the plan.

In reference to the notice that the works of the extension to Treinta y Tres are to be commenced shortly it may be of interest to state that the line will follow the Sauce and Olimar Cuchillas, through the Urtubey estate. It will cross the Olimar Chico at a distance of about ¼ of a mile from its confluence with the Olimar Grande, which it crosses a league lower down. The technical inspector, Mr. Emilio Lacueva will superintend the work.

Saturday Evening

Last night wild rumours flew about in regard to a supposed discovery of firearms in Salto. It was also reported that Government was making out a fresh list of military promotions. All these rumours are unfounded. A deputy intends drawing up a bill taking from the Government the privilge of promoting officers in the army and navy.

There is no truth in the report that Dr. Ellauri was to be named Finance Minister.

The President of the Republic now goes out with an armed escort.

The weather is again very fine.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

We observe in a provincial exchange a description of Mr. Ugarte's splendid estancia in Pergamino. It lies about seven leagues from the town and covers an area of 4 square leagues. The 'campo' is crossed by six small rivers, including the historic "arroyos" of Del Medio and Cepeda. The estancia is divided into 18 wired sections, containing 78,000 half-bred Rambouillet sheep, and 15,000 cows, including 200 black hornless cows, 60 Polled Angus, the remainder being half-bred Durham. The famous Durham Bull, Orange, is in this estancia. Mr. Ugarte has a very fine stud of 100 and odd thoroughbred stallions and mares· The station Infernal is supposed to be one of the finest in the province. There is besides a good collection of Shetland and other kinds of ponies. These studs are under the able management of Mr. Tomkinson. The stabling is very good.

There are 28 'puestos' on the estancia. About 200 men are employed on the estate. On one of the islands in the Arroyo Cepeda, Mr. Tomkinson has started a poultry farm on a large scale. The annual yield of wool on the estancia is 250,000 lbs. and the yearly sale of half-bred steers averages 2000.

Mr. Waldino Maradona has laid before the Santa Fe Government a project for the opening of an "Oficina de Seguros Territoriales." We have not received any particulars in reference to this project, but we see the Government has a hand in it. It is devised for the benefit of landowners: most concerns of the kind are. But the Government never loses in these concerns.

The gas-question in Rosario has suddenly assumed a new aspect. The Intendente and the Corporation are at loggerheads, which means that the former will probably be forced to resign. There is no standing against a hostile corporation. In fact the only thing a municipal corporation can do is to bowl over the mayor and, we may add, increase the taxes.

The death of the Governor of Mendoza has contributed to raise political expectations in that Andine province. The vice-governor will have a hard time of it in dealing with the contending parties. Stick to your vines, Mendocinos; make plenty of wine, drink very little of it, and you will all be prosperous again.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Regatta in Dock Three, for the Rosales Fund, is the event of to-day. It may safely be calculated to draw the masses, and part of the classes too. There is, however, fun for all: racing at Belgrano, and lots of Polo and football, to say nothing of the theatres at night. Otello, given for the first time last night in the National Theatre, and given well, will be repeated. The San Martin announces "Donne Curiose," and all the other houses and halls have capital programmes. Madame Huguet—Patti's Fival—will arrive from Europe to-morrow for the National.

Late last night the clubs and the whole town (that was not in bed) were startled by persistent rumours of revolution. Our reporters wore out their boots in vain trying to get at the bottom of these alarms.

The Marine Minister has ordered commander Funes and the officers of the Rosales to be set at liberty. The 'sumario' cannot go on till Admiral Solier comes back.

The owner of the tug Emperor is to get $10,000 gold for his trip to Cape Polonio to look for the lost crew of the Rosales.

The Senate sat yesterday. Dr. Galvez in the chair. The Finance Committee reported on the Pension Bill, the Argentine Pavilion contract with Señor Mora, and the proposed creation of a "Direccion de Tierras, Emigracion y Agricultura" Office. The Accounts' Committee reported that the Executive had not sent for revision the accounts of the Administration for last year. A motion by Senator Varela that the Executive be asked to send the accounts was passed "sobre tablas." The Accounts' Committee asked the House to decide whether the accounts of previous years should be revised. Senator Varela said the Committee did not feel authorised to examine such accounts. Senator Crespo thought otherwise. Senator Doncel moved that the matter be sent to Committee, and this was approved. The most important "asunto entrado" was from the Tucuman Legislature about the election of a National Senator by the minority, as the majority would not attend; sent to Committee. The House then voted an extra credit of $105,000 for sundry State schools. The proposal from the Lower Chamber to exonerate 'morose' debtors of Contribution Directa tax from fines was thrown out, and the House rose.

Here is some startling news for our friends in the "black diamond" line; it comes from the land over which the Stars and Stripes banner waves:—There is now in active operation in Penn., U. S., a new device for conveying coal from the mines to the great cities, by means of water. The coal is pulverized and refined, and then mixed with water and forced through iron tubes at the rate of 5 miles an hour. A tube 8 inches in diameter will convey 3000 tons of coal in 24 hours. The forcing stations are 30 miles apart, and the cost of transportation is said to be only about one-fifth the charges made by railroads. If the existing line, which is an experimental one, proves to be successful, similar lines to Chicago, New York, and Philadelphia will be at once constructed.

The Governor of Mendoza has gone to the Elysian Fields, to join General Achmuty, where politics cease from troubling.

Another new passenger for the Editorial Bus: a "hidalgo" (named Heraldo), and consequently as serious as a Judge. We'll soon have not even a spark of fun in the E. B., there are so many passengers who consider a laugh a mortal sin now getting into it.

Whoever wants to get to the European side of the Atlantic direct, in 25 days, with good things to eat on the way, should take note that the Pacific steamer Patagonia will sail from La Plata on the 9th.

Troops "acuarteladas" in poor Montevideo, and President Herrera with a military escort whenever he dons his hat for a drive. This is a new departure, and looks ominous. They say that old Salto is the "locus in quo" of the alleged plot.

Don't forget little Drangosch's piano concert to-morrow night. He is a very nice boy and a splendid player for a ten-year-older.

Judging by the excellence of the programme for the races to-day in Belgrano, an enormous attendance may be expected; and, with the beautiful weather that has prevailed during the last few days, the course ought to furnish excellent going. Our selections for the various events are as follows :—

Premio Moron—Polaina.
" Merlo—Le Torpilleur.
" Hipodromo Nacl.—Araucano.
" Mercedes—Finance.
" Moreno Ecurie Talisman-
" Bragado—Buridan.

There was a nasty scene opposite the Bolsa yesterday, owing to a Zoo spotting a horse in a shocking state of disease under a broker's trap. After a wordy war between the Zoo, a "blue" and the son of Mammon, the latter gave his card as bail for his appearance when called on.

The funeral obsequies for Mr. Albert Butler were attended yesterday at the Merced church by a small number of friends. It will be remembered that Mr. Butler was murdered at his own door, at Moron, some ten days ago, in broad daylight, but the assassin is still at large. Deceased was a native of Montevideo, a cousin of Mr. John Jackson, and of Irish descent, his family being resident in the River Plate nearly a century.

Very Rev. Father O'Grady, of Mercedes, went on a visit to the Morgan estancia in Fray Bentos last week. He had occasion during his short stay to admire the beauty and variety of the scenery of that portion of the Banda Oriental. He says that the zeal in the exercises of religion and charity displayed by the Morgan family has had a most salutary effect in restoring the faith that was dwindling away among many of the inhabitants. Persons who seldom or never attended church in former days are now known to travel seven or eight leagues to be present at divine service on Sunday and holidays, mainly owing to the edifying example and encouragement given them by their neighbours the children of St. Patrick. Father O'Grady returned to Buenos Ayres on Tuesday morning. In crossing he experiencad some very severe weather and for a time the water was so disturbed that it was impossible to remain in the saloon of the boat.—Southern Cross.

Salmon, pike and goldfish are said to be the only fish that never sleep, so they may be considered odd fish. The demand for "nightcaps" would fall off considerably if all the odd fishes on dry land were gifted like the above named members of the finny tribe.

According to early Jewish belief, Apollyon or the Evil One came out from the infernal regions in the shape of a cloud of locusts. The belief still survives. Only recently a worthy farmer declared with much sincerity that "locusts were the very d—l!

The wedding of Mr. John Cowan of Altamirano and Miss Kate Hussey of Brandzen, which took place last week in the Chapel of the Sacred Heart in Calle Cochabamba, brought a large number of the relatives and friends of the two highly esteemed families together. Mr. Patrick Hussey, brother of the bride, gave her away, and Miss Cowan, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. We offer our congratulations to the happy couple.

A well known English commercial firm in this city has petitioned the Patent office to be allowed to use as a trade mark for its goods the portrait and name of a popular negro in Tucuman, named Magi. The Patent office refuses to allow this privilege to the petitioners on the grounds that they have no written statement to show that the consent of the coloured person in question has been obtained to having his private property—namely his face, figure, and name—meddled with.

The City Papas opened their ordinary session on Friday. They all looked as fresh as paint after their vacation. They began with the Mad House (a rather "absit omen" beginning for a new session). Then they exempted the Fronton Buenos Aires from the payment of some taxes, and subsequently dashed into the height of public and private buildings, the watering of streets, gas in Belgrano "y otras yerbas."

The Bolivians in town celebrated their Independence Day yesterday in a quiet but patriotic manner. We have the pleasure to wish them many returns of it

The yacht Sunbeam, in which the late Lady Brassey made so many voyages, and in which, after immortalizing the vessel in her book, she found her tragic death, has been wrecked on the West Australian coast. The yacht had recently changed owners, and had for some time past belonged to Lord Canteloupe, who purchased the Sunbeam for the purpose of pearling on the coast, where she went down owing to a hole in the engine-room flooring. The very same kind of accident through which, it is alleged, the unfortunate Rosales was lost.

We thank the witty subscriber in the vicinity of that excellent institution the British Hospital for all the queer things he sent us yesterday. If we were to publish them, the row in the Editorial Bus would be far worse than the recent revolutions in Salta and Honduras.

We have received two letters from England for Mr. John Weir, son of the Revd. John Weir of Little Horkesley, Essex, and will thank him to call for them.

The unpleasantness in Rosario between the Mayor and Councillors is getting as hot as the tropics, and some fun is expected.

Alvear's Folly, May Avenue, will shortly be thrown open between Peru and Chacabuco, as the difficulties hitherto in the way have been surmounted. A precious long time must elapse before the city cash box surmounts the difficulties into which the said Avenue plunged it.

ON 'CHANGE.

Saturday, August 6th 1892.

The settlement came off this morning in a falling gold market. At first operators believed that gold was "short" and a push was made to put up prices, but it very soon leaked out that gold was "long" and a very sharp decline ensued. The bulls tried to make the most out of the shipment of forty thousand sovereigns by the French packet Bresil, but the bearish current was too strong and it swept everything before it. Such was the irresistible force of the fall this morning that even a shipment of 100,000 sovereigns would not have checked the current. The fact of the matter is that since the beginning of the month dealers have been speculating too freely on the strength of a turn for the worse in politics and a "shortage" of gold; both have proved false, and the market is tumbling headlong.

About fourteen thousand ounces changed hands for cash at the first ring; the price opened at $53.10, rose to $53.20, then fell steadily, closing weak at $52.60, say 223.19½ premium. A few sovereigns were sold at $16.40, say 225.38½ premium. The business of the morning was comparatively slow for a weekly settlement.

The pressure on the gold market now comes from two sources. Cable gold from London and Montevideo with orders to invest the paper in Empresitto Bonds of 1891 and 1892, and heavy time sellers of gold for every month from September to the end of the year. Of course if we have a good and favorable season this year we shall have such a drop in gold as will even astonish the market; but the seasons are so uncertain, and our crops exposed to so many eventualities, that he

One of the officers of H. M. S. Cleopatra says that he visited many of the sheep-farms in Tierra del Fuego and inspected the wool. Some of the fleeces weighed from 36 to 40 lbs. This beats all our sheep-farming experiences in Buenos Ayres. All this wool goes to the Falkland Islands to be shipped to England, when by right it should either go direct to Europe or come up to our Central Produce Market here.

At a board meeting of the Provincial Bank in La Plata it was resolved to authorize the branches of the bank in Tandil, Bahia Blanca, Azul, Chivilcoy, 9 de Julio and Baradero to re-open discounts. Each of these branches will receive 50,000 dollars for the purpose, and the maximum discount in every case is limited to 5000 dollars. Another important piece of news affecting this bank is that its chairman has promised to compound with the bank's gold debtors, by allowing them to settle up at a gold premium much under the market rate. All this sounds funny and exceptional in banking matters.

Talking of the Provincial Bank, we must revert to its twin colleague in importance—the National Bank. In the lobbies of Congress a rumour is rampant that some Senators are seriously thinking of framing some kind of bill to restore the National Bank to its former career of usefulness. To do this, the charter of the Bank must be radically reformed—we should think so.

Some shrewd heads on 'Change are afraid that the finale of the present quarrel between the Caja de Conversion and the Banco de la Nacion will be the peremptory demand on the part of the Board of the Bank for the 32 millions balance to complete its capital. This would knock the legs from under the market and create a stampede in speculative quarters.

Immediately after the first ring, Mr. Fariña, the well-known broker, sold at auction 120 shares of the Banco de B. Ayres at $4.20.

Wheat has again risen to $9.20 per 10 kilos. This price was paid in the market to-day for some very special parcels from the South of the province.

Mr. John Sewell, manager of the great Curamalan estate, was welcomed to-day. He states that heavy rains have fallen in the far south and that the season promises to beat tho best record. The weather has been exceptionally favorable. From the Curamalan colonies it is reported that 30,000 fanegas of wheat were sold on the spot for export, via Bahia Blanca.

Mr. Oliver, the well-known capitalist, will leave for Europe in the Pacific steamer Potosi. Mr. Duesberg, well known in exporting circles, will leave on the 22nd, and Mr Schwab, agent of several important Paris houses, will leave also on the 22nd.

Maize continues very firm in spite of the fall in the gold premium. Our colleague El Diario states that 2000 tons have been sold at $6.60 per 100 kilos, deliverable at ports up river; under such conditions we think the price sounds high, although the market is very firm; $6.60 is quoted at the Rio Santiago and Mercado Central.

Mr. Diego Ramsay's sale of one hundred tons of wool, in deposit in the Central Produce Market, at 8.50$ to 8.80$ per 10 kilos is the talk of the market, as the price is exceptional, in view of the unfavourable advices from the European wool markets. The fall in freights here, the rate of exchange, and the sudden spurt in gold at the time, explain the high price paid. The sale is exceptional.

In answer to a note of the Minister of Marine, Admiral Bartolome Cordero has sent a letter to the Navy Office stating that the minimum depth of water in the new Martin Garcia channel at low tide is 15 feet, and this along a bank of 400 metres long: at both extremities of this bank the channel is several feet deeper. A little dredging would make a splendid channel in that quarter. However, nothing can be done until the jurisdiction over the channel be settled between the Uruguayan and Argentine Governments.

One hundred splendid Lincoln wethers were sold at the Tablada to-day at 11.70$ per head. Middling Rambouillets fetched 6i$; 250 inferior Rambouillets were sold at 5$ each.

The Buenos Aires Handelszeitung appeared to-day with a lengthy and interesting article on the foreign debt of the province of Buenos Ayres and the expediency of compounding with the foreign creditors of the province. The Ensenada Loan and the special guarantees that surrond it are dealt with in detail, and the writer shows all the difficulties in the way of any compromise with other bondholders of gold loans at the present moment. The Ensenada loan is specially guaranteed by the La Plata port and figures in Provincial foreign indebtedness more or less as the privileged Pelegrini loan does in the list of national gold loans. From the tenor of our colleague's article it leaks out that a commissioner of Buenos Ayres foreign bondholders has been negotiating some arrangement at La Plata for some time past, and that there are insuperable obstacles in the way.

With regard to La Plata finances, it is also known that an attempt was made to galvanize the Mortgage Bank for foreign account. No settlement could be arrived at, in view of the conflict of interests, the creditors being abroad and all the debtors here. Under such circumstances it is no wonder if all recent legislation has been in favor of the debtor. Something may yet be done if La Plata Cedulas fall to a lower level

Telegrams from London quote Uruguayan Deuda Consolidada at 31.2.5 There was a time when the Baring liquidators thought them cheap at 50.

The Pacific steamer Potosi, from Valparaiso, arrived at and left Coronel the day before yesterday; she is expected at Montevideo on the 14th inst. and is posted to leave same day for Europe.

The Pacific steamer Patagonia will leave on the 9th inst. for Las Palmas and Liverpool direct; she is expected to arrive at the latter port in 25 days.

The National Railway Board has reinstated Mr. Jaime Perter as its Sub-Accountant. He was "pro tem" Interventor on the Pacific Railway.

The Italian steamer Sirio arrived at Genoa yesterday. The steamer Perseo of the same line arrived at Rio yesterday.

The steamer Couvier, from Liverpool, arrived to-day at Montevideo.

The following are the principal exports from Montevideo from 1st October 1891 till 30th ult :—

Sheepskins.....	6,541	bales
Salted hides.....	384,100
Wool.....	47,868	bales

It is stated that the Pacific steamer Patagonia, which is posted to leave La Plata on the 9th for Europe direct, will take a consignment of sovereigns.

The following gentlemen have applied for membership in the Bolsa:—E. W. Curtis, Carlos Fauvety, Alberto Maggio, Juan Fontanet, Jose M. Aldao. The following gentlemen were posted up to-day as new members: J Herman, J. M. Gonzalez, Camobedt, Englisch, J. J. Keany, R. A. Thumbonn, Leandro M. Pinazo, Juan Pomes, Pedro N. Ascaris.

The Chairman of the Caja de Conversion sent a note to-day to the Minister of Finance announcing the cremation of 351,348$ of notes of various issues for account of amortization and exchange; also the burning of 30,000$ of notes of old issues no longer legal of the National Bank and of the Bank of Entre Rios.

The Buenos Ayres Pacific Railway Company have informed Dr. Araoz, Chairman of the National Railways Board, that on the night of the 29th. ult. two fellows on horseback were seen near the line between stations Salas and Rufino, that one of them fired at the passenger train, the bullet striking the locomotive and in close vicinity to the engine-man. Dr. Araoz has informed the Government of the matter and has requested the Minister of the Interior to place the matter before the Cordoba Government, in whose jurisdiction the outrage took place.

The Lord Mayor applied to-day to the Home Minister to issue orders to the Committee of City Improvement Works to connect the San Roque and Rawson Hospitals and the Hospicio de los Mercedes with the drainage works.

The gold market ruled steady at the second ring: ten thousand ounces were sold for Monday: the price opened at 52.50$ and closed at 52.70$, say 223.80% premium. Nothing was done in sovereigns. Both Patriotic and Internal Bonds were stationary, next to nothing done, at 71.90 for Monday and 72.10 for end of the month. Internal Bonds were done at 67 20 for Monday. A lot of bank shares turned up suddenly from all quarters, even National Bank Shares. Thus the black-board recorded National Bank at 31, Banco de Italia at 92, Nuevo Banco Italiano at 56, Banco Comercial at 30—quite a banking array with eloquent signs of banking resuscitation. Old Gas Shares changed hands at 85 and Argentine Gas at 44. Municipal Lottery bonds were dull at 61 and Catalinas steady at 10.10 for Monday and 10.20 for end of month. La Plata Cedulas were dead-and-alive.

The interpellation in Congress as to the payment of bounties to the meat preserving factories in the country will bring Minister Hansen before the House on Monday. In the interpellation we see that the principal charges are as follows:—

1st—Payment of bounty in gold instead of paper, in spite of the special provision of the law of Congress.

2nd—Payment of bounty to factories that should not have received a copper, having forfeited all claims, for not having turned out the minimum quantities of beef or other products stated in the law.

The market looks forward with interest to Minister Hansen's reply on Monday. There is opposition in the House against the Bounty Act, and it will be probably repealed.

A subscriber, who has just come in from Venado Tuerto reports great improvement there, thanks to the railway. Colonies are springing up fast along the line, and Mr. Turner's fine estate has been divided into chacras. The price of land is rising there; a league near the town has been sold, the other day, for $60,000, a remarkable price. The ordinary price, however, is from $30,000 to $35,000 per square league.

The New Zealand Trust and Loan company, which has a branch in this city, has just declared a dividend in London of 5 shillings per share, which makes 9½% for the year, rather a good business in these hard times.

They had a very severe cotton failure in Liverpool last month; the firm was one of the oldest and most respected in the market; the suspension was due to a big bull account carried in a falling market, 110,000 bales of cotton were taken over by the syndicate to be sold at the rate of 2,500 bales per day.

Mr. Gillingham, of the Santa Fe Land company, has received instructions from the London board to offer every facility to colonists willing to enter into contracts on the Metayer system, by which colonists instead of paying in cash for their land, pay in kind or in produce of the soil in agreed proportions; this seems to be a move in the right direction. The London board says that now the estate is self supporting and no funds have been sent out from London for the last two years except to pay the contribucion directa. The great law-suit to recover 70 leagues of land sold by the Government of Santa-Fé, is still pending.

The large and valuable property at the corner of Chacabuco and Mexico occupied by Mr. Cabral, as a coach-establishment, was sold yesterday at auction and only fetched 6½ dollars the square vara. Three years ago this property, with gold at but a small premium, would have fetched double the present price.

The French packet Brezil took to Rio £40,000 in gold, they say in payment for exchange.

The news from La Plata is the moratorium for the Mortgage bank will not be attempted, but all the other portions of the bill facilitating debtors in their payments to the Bank will be passed. This will probably put up the price of bonos and put down the price of Cedulas.

They are still busy in London with the municipal loan of the city of Buenos Aires of 1888, which is in default notwithstanding the untiring efforts of Messrs. Luis Cohen & Co., bankers, who have retained Messrs. Bemberg & Co. of Buenos Aires to act for them out here. All that Cohen & Co. ask of the Municipality is that a percentage of the Municipal revenues be paid daily into the bank, and that Messrs. Bemberg & Co. in their arrangements with the Municipality be very careful to preserve their claim against the Banco Nacional now in liquidation. The Municipal finances are in such a melancholy state that we fear many years must pass over before Messrs. Cohen & Co. succeed in getting their money.

The Cedula Bondholders Committee in London have received from the National Mortgage Bank an official notice in Spanish, which they publish in English in the London papers, calling for amortization tenders for the following cedulas:—

Series A with coupon October 92 $300,000
Seaies B " " January 93 $215,000
Series C " " October 92 $21,000

London people offering for the amortization must send the cedulas out here to accompany the tenders, which will be received till 12 o'clock on August 31st and opened at 2 o'clock on the same day.

Mr. Rocca, the well known Italian Bolsa broker, was welcomed to-day on his recovery. His colleagues at the ring were glad to see him back after three weeks' absence.

Mr. Francis Rath deposited by mistake 3000$ in the National Mortgage Bank. The Secretary of the Bank by notice calls on him to call at the bank for his money.

Remataremos por cuenta y orden de una Sociedad y por liquidacion total de la misma, 233,762 hectareas, 66 areas y 39 centiareas ubicadas en la Provincia de Santa Fe, donde como todo el mundo sabe, existen las mas vastas y ricas colonias de agricultores de la Republica y cuyos habitantes no conocen la crisis que ha abrumado al resto de ellas, debido a las esplendidas y abundantes cosechas que les han dado estas sin iguales tierras.
La ubicacion de estas queda al Oeste del gran ferro-carril que arranca de la capital de la republica y cruza toda la rica y poblada zona de colonias terminando en la ciudad de Tucuman.
Comiénsan las tierras que se ofrecen en venta, en la Estacion Arruño del ferro-carril mencionado y van hasta la Estacion Ceres de la cual distan 2 a 2 1/2 leguas estando el resto de ellas ubicadas sobre la Estacion Malbran extendiendose al Sud Oeste de la misma.
Todas estas tierras estan medidas, y midiendose el resto por el Agrimensor Publico, Señor Eduardo Elquera, y seran entregadas amojonadas a todos y cada uno de los compradores una vez escrituradas.
Corpumos de una carta de dicho Agrimensor, lo pertinente a la fraccion que acaba de medir, que dice:—
"Respecto de la clase de tierra, se puede considerar de tener igual calidad de tierra vejetal de 50 centimetros termino medio de tierra negra, terrenos muy altos, el agua potable obteniendose de 6 a 12 metros. No hay montes espesos, (esceptuando las tierras que estan al Norte sobre la Estacion Malbran donde los montes son muy abundantes y en partes impenetrables) sino isletas de arboles v. g. ñandubay, algarrobo, palo amarillo, algarrobo negro, etc. etc.
"El lote 85 es algo bajo terreno inferior.
"Los demas lotes son adecuados para la agricultura y se encuentaan rodeados de colonias es mas pobladas y otras en formacion y cerca a las Estaciones Arruño, Herzilia, Ceres, del gran ferro-carril de B. Aires a Tucuman.
"La temperatura de esta region es la misma que reina en de donde dista unas 20 leguas."
Creemos que con estos datos nada tenemos que alegar sobre la bondad de estos terrenos que solo necesitan los brazos de hombres para hacerlos producir y con sus frutos sacar en un par de años doble de lo que se ha pagado por ellas.
La Provincia de Santa Fe que hace apenas 15 años, puede decirse, hera casi desierta, hoy es un damero cruzado en todas direcciones por lineas ferreas pobladas por innumerables colonias que robosan de poblacion rica y activa; llenas de molinos a vapor, elevadores de granos, fabricas e industrias sin fin.
Antes del fin de este siglo, la Provincia de Santa Fe enviara al mundo de sus granos de todas clases como lo hacen actualmente los Estados Unidos del Norte.
Creemos inutil insistir en mayores detalles sobre lo que son y seran estas tierras; ahi estan sus hechos que dicen mas de lo que podriamos decir nosotros.
Llamaremos si la atencion de los compradores sobre las condiciones de la venta a saber:—
Sin base ni lim
